

POSITIONS

Director of Music and Liturgy and Organist, Holy Family
Catholic Church, Glendale

University Organist, California
Lutheran University

Music Theory Faculty, The Colburn School

BOOKING

Seven Eight Artists
Michael Ging
michael@seveneightartists.com

DIRECT

afernandez@hfglendale.org
626-512-9109

ONLINE

liquid1188.github.io/adan-fernandez-site youtube.com/@AdanFernandezMusic

ORGANIST · HARPSICHORDIST · CONDUCTOR

Adán Alejandro Fernández

Organist, harpsichordist, and conductor, working where the pipe organ, the Catholic liturgy, and the sacred music of Latin America meet.

Dr. Adán Alejandro Fernández is Director of Music and Liturgy and Organist at Holy Family Catholic Church in Glendale, California, and University Organist at California Lutheran University. He plays harpsichord with the early music consort Hortus Musicus, teaches music theory at the Colburn School, and founded the Glendale Youth Symphony. He holds a Doctor of Musical Arts in sacred music from the University of Southern California.

Honors

2026 Conducting Fellow, Kansas City
Chorale, with Charles Bruffy

2025 Fellow, Yale Sacred Music
Academy

2025 Panelist, Los Angeles
Commission of Arts

2024 Conducting Fellow, Anderson
Conducting Academy

2024 UCLA grant to record the works of Carlos Colón

2024 Grants from the California Choral
Directors Association and the American
Bach Society

Programs

Preludes and Fugues

Bach and Franck

Music from Ages Past

The Sacred Music of Spain and Latin America

Latin American Styles at the Organ

Requiems

Education

2020 Doctor of Musical Arts, Sacred
Music, University of Southern California

2014 Master of Arts, Organ
Performance, Claremont Graduate University

2011 Bachelor of Music, Piano
Performance, Azusa Pacific University

Writing and music

Adán writes and lectures on liturgy, hymnody, and the sacred music of Latin America. He is a columnist for GIA Publications and an editor for the Hymn Society, and his choral music is published by MusicSpoke and GIA. Articles in Religions, CrossAccent, ChorTeach, and Reformed Worship; an edition of three Bach chorales for GIA; the choral works Concert of Silences and Te Cubrirá.

Has performed at and with

Walt Disney Concert Hall, the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Angels, Christ Cathedral in Garden Grove, First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, Occidental College, and the Colburn School, with the Colburn Orchestra, the New West Symphony, the Westlake Village Orchestra, the Symphony of the Verdugos, Street Symphony, the Los Angeles Camerata, Kontrapunktus, and Hortus Musicus.

Photograph courtesy of Seven Eight
Artists. Say it: ah-DAH-N ah-leh-HAHN-droh fer-NAHN-dess.